

FCC should not allow any attempt to weaken Indiana's law that is prohibiting making unwanted calls. To put simply, the right not to communicate with unwanted ones over the telephone should be protected. Telephone is not the only means for banks to communicate with their customers. Why are we so sensitive to spam e-mails but not to spam phone calls? Note that there are many people who are sick and tired of meaningless phone-call rings.